Where Your Story becomes a Part of History

The Barn at Shagway offers a truly unique setting for your wedding—where history and nature come together. We're honored to share this special place where families and friends can gather to celebrate meaningful moments. Surrounded by the natural beauty of Hamlin Township, the property reflects a deep connection to the land and the stories that make it so special.

The barn was originally built in 1898 by homesteader Henry Shagway of the Ottawa Tribe. It carries a rich legacy that we're proud to preserve and share. Thoughtfully restored, the barn provides a one-of-a-kind backdrop for your big day—something truly memorable and unlike anywhere else. We're grateful to be part of your celebration and to offer a place where your story becomes part of this land's continuing legacy.

Jamie & Anna

We're born and raised in Ludington, and it means so much to us to share this special place with couples beginning their next chapter. Our dream for The Barn at Shagway is to create a space where you can gather your favorite people, celebrate your love, and feel completely present in a setting that's warm, meaningful, and truly one of a kind.

What makes this place so special to us is its story. From the history of the barn and Henry Shagway to the natural beauty that surrounds it, we hope your wedding here feels deeply rooted and special. It's more than just a venue to us—it's something we're proud to share with you as you start your life together. Thank you for letting us be a small part of such an important moment.
